Tribute to a special woman
(Anon.)

Not, how did she die, but how did she live?

Not, what she gain, but what did she give?

These are the units to measure the worth

Of a person on earth, regardless of birth.

Not, what was her station, but had she a heart,

And how did she play her God-given part?

Was she ever ready, with a word of good cheer,

To bring back a smile and banish a tear?

Not, what did the obituary in the paper say,

But how many were sad when she passed away?
